Vision: To improve the lives of all women through social, economic, and political empowerment.

Announcing...the seventeenth annual Women and Work Conference! Please take a moment to review this year's topics and follow the instructions for sending in registrations.

The Women & Work Conference was established to allow better communication and networking among women throughout Indiana. It is a great approach for staying connected with your colleagues, sharing best practices, news, ideas and resources, and for asking questions and drawing on the knowledge, experience and support of professional women in the workforce.

We hope you will take advantage of this opportunity to network with your colleagues. Conference topics may range from state-specific to national however all are topics relating to women in the workforce. Discussions may provide you with new ideas or insight into challenges or successes others are facing that may apply to you. This event is designed to highlight critical elements that all working women share. Participants come from all over the state and country, representing virtually all life paths: young women in school, women who work, and those working through retirement. On-site feedback indicates that many who attend once come back again and again. Whether this is your first time or your tenth, this event promises to deliver a tremendous return on your investment.

Sponsored with funds from the Indiana Department of Workforce Development, Indiana Commission for Career and Technical Education, Indiana Commission for Women, and the Indiana AFL-CIO Labor Institute For Training, Inc. (LIFT).

Presents:*

OPENING KEYNOTE SESSION

Lt. Governor Katherine L. Davis
(Invited)

Lt. Governor Kathy Davis was unanimously confirmed the 49th Lieutenant Governor of Indiana in October of 2003 by the Indiana General Assembly. She is the first woman to hold the position. As Indiana's lieutenant governor, Lt. Governor Davis serves as president of the Senate, the director of the Indiana Department of Commerce, the commissioner of Agriculture, and the chair of Indiana's Counter Terrorism and Security Council.

PANEL DISCUSSION

Workforce trends and implications for employee benefits, workers, employers, and public policy! Health care costs are on the rise and individual health care insurance coverage is on the decline. Panelists will discuss their personal views and experiences concerning the current status of employment benefits and the social, economic, cultural, and health issues which women encounter based on the outcomes of such benefits.

WORKSHOP TOPICS INCLUDE...

Introducing...The Learn More Resource Center, Indiana's Pre-K to College Connection: Learn More services and resources range from a toll-free Hotline, Spanish translation services, an annual student survey, and an expanded Website that addresses topics from careers and education to healthy minds and bodies.

Here's Your Hat ~ What's Your Hurry?: Learning to slow down and balance life when you have to wear many hats - all at one time.

Women's Health & Well-being: The latest news will be offered on research and facts for women regarding topics such as menopause, osteoporosis, and mammograms.

The Financial Checkup: Learn the keys to retiring financially secure.

Other topics include Working in Nontraditional Occupations: Lessons Learned, Future Opportunities, Women with a Business Dream, Identity Theft, and much more.

SPECIAL GUEST

Thia Hamilton, Women Work!

Thia Hamilton, Deputy Director of Women Work!, the National Network for Women's Employment, located in Washington, D.C. will again join Indiana women to learn and advocate for women's success in the workforce. Women Work! is a nationwide network of service providers and advocates for women whose lives are in social and economic transition. Women Work!'s vision is to see all women succeed in the American economy, and to see the American economy equitably value the contributions of all women.
